

Building Relationships with Children in Haiti Learning Assessment

Multiple Choice

1. What is mentioned as one of the best ways to build relationships with children?
  - a. Spending time with them
  - b. Asking them to write a story
  - c. Observing them in school
2. Which of the following answer choices are non-verbal techniques that were used to facilitate building relationships?
  - a. Storytelling
  - b. Drawing activities
  - c. Facial expressions
  - d. Hand games

Short Answer

1. How and why are strong relationships important to increasing the effectiveness of development work?
2. Which of the multiple play techniques considered do you think would be useful for you in building cross cultural relationships with children? How might you apply them?
3. How could many of these same techniques be applied to working with adults as well as children?
4. What are some ways these techniques could be used to help navigate around the cultural faux pas we will inevitably make when working in a new culture?
5. What cultural factors from your own background might make it challenging for you to communicate effectively across cultures?

6. What other professions do you think would be well suited for this work of building relationships cross-culturally, with both children and adults?

Key

Multiple choice

1. A.
2. B, C, and D