

Glen Clark Shinn, Ph.D.
Professor Emeritus and Borlaug Senior Scientist
Senior Partner, Global Consulting Solutions
Bryan-College Station, Texas, USA

Professional Experience

International Development	GCS—Global Consulting Solutions, Senior Partner	2011 to date
University Faculty	Texas A&M University, Professor Emeritus,	2012 to date
Appointments	Texas A&M University, Professor & Department Head,	1993 - 2011
	Clemson University, Professor & Department Head	1988 - 1993
	Mississippi State University, Professor	1978 - 1988
	University of Missouri, Associate Professor	1973 - 1978
	University of Florida, Assistant Professor	1971 - 1973
High School Faculty	East Newton and Moniteau Co. Missouri, Instructor	1963 - 1969

Formal Education

Ph.D. University of Missouri-Columbia, Agricultural Education, Agricultural Engineering, Higher & Adult Education, Research Methods. 1971.

M.Ed. University of Missouri-Columbia, Agricultural Education, Agricultural Engineering

B.S. Oklahoma State University, Agricultural Education, 1963.

Post-Doctoral Education

Sabbatical Study. (2005). International business models for rural agricultural education: Instituto Tecnológico de Estudios Superiores de Monterrey; Wageningen University; European Centre for the Development of Vocational Training (CEDFOP); University of Melbourne, Monash University, and Charles Sturt University.

Research Topical Areas

International agricultural development, Higher agricultural education planning and development, Rural education & development, post-Conflict development, Future trend analysis

Research Skillset

American & European Higher Education; Change Theory and Processes; Futuring; Planning & Needs Assessment; Evaluation & Performance Measures; P-20 School Transformation.

Postsecondary agricultural education and extension planning, needs assessment, monitoring & evaluation, curriculum integration, diffusion of innovation, and agricultural technology encased in change.

Consulting Activities:

Professional experience in 39 countries in Africa, Asia, Australia, the Caribbean, Eurasia, Europe, North America, South America, and the Middle East. Consultant to USAID, USDA-FAS, Department of Defense, Borlaug Institute for International Agriculture, Texas A&M University, Conflict and Development Center. Five Afghan Universities. Armenian National Agrarian University, Seoul National University of Technology, Universidad Nacional Agraria La Molina-Peru, University of Tetova-Macedonia.

Scholarly Activities

Published 205 articles, including 84 research-based publications in 11 scholarly journals. Recognized Among the Ten Most Productive Scholars in U.S. Agricultural Education. 1970-1980-1990. Shinn is a Senior Fellow in AIAEE and Senior Fellow in AAAE, Fulbright Senior Specialist, Borlaug Senior Scientist, and Alpha Zeta Outstanding Teacher Award (Clemson). Shinn received the 2017 Texas A&M AgriLife Vice Chancellor's Award in Excellence-Collaboration, the 2010 George H. W. Bush Award for Excellence in International Research, the 2008 10th Mountain Division Combat Patch (Honorary), Baghdad, Iraq, the 2007 Gold Medal from the Armenian State Agrarian University, and FFA Honorary Chapter & State Degree. FFA Honorary American Degree. National FFA VIP Award. (01 July 2023)